

TARIFF PICTURES.
Today's treasury employees earned on the average $3.30 a year in 1880 and $14 in 1890. They received altogether $4,300,450 in 1890 and $4,003,092 in 1880. These changes were wrought in labor's favor by our Protective Tariff.

Secretary Carlisle has ordered his subordinates not to divulge information concerning the status of the Treasury. "Open the books" is another Democratic howl that has gone into "innocuous desuetude."

PEPPERER PICKINGS.
St. Joseph Herald.—Senator Pepper has been made Chairman of the committee to "examine the several branches of the Civil Service." He is himself a flagrant violator of the spirit of the Civil Service law, in that while drawing a salary of $5,000 a year as Senator, he has succeeded in placing in official position, at fat salaries, a son, a daughter and a niece.

FOURTH OF MARCH WEATHER.
Beginning with Grant's second inauguration in 1873, a period of twenty years, during which six Presidents have been inaugurated, the 4th of March fell on pleasant days only twice. The 4th of March, 1873, was a bitter cold and blustering day. There was neither snow nor rain, but the temperature was so low that death reared a large harvest among those who participated in the parade. The 4th of March, 1877, when Hayes was inaugurated, was a miserably damp, pneumonia breeding day. It is evident that the weather, or the date of the inauguration, or the pomp and ceremonial of the event must be changed.

THE "MISTAKE" DISCOVERED.
The "satisfaction" with which President Cleveland's methods of dealing with Federal patronage are received by his party was forcibly put by a disappointed Missourian as follows:
Here was Massachusetts, which was almost the only state with a hereditary Harrison's majority. His has got the Attorney General, the Assistant Secretary of State, the Comptroller General to the Treasury, an Assistant Attorney General, and ex-Congressman Coville goes as Minister to Switzerland. There are six big places Massachusetts has got in all already. And what has Missouri got? Nothing. I tell you, we made a great mistake when we increased our Democratic majority.
One can almost hear the soft flutter of the wings of Democratic humanity in every line of this brief utterance.

YOU MUST PAY THE PLUMBER.
A Chicago plumbing company has placed in and about the World's Fair Buildings about 3,000 lavatories and water-closets, for the use of which five and ten cents will be charged. It is said to be a great snafu, and that the company granting the privilege will realize at least $2,000,000. Discussing the magnificent scheme a Chicago paper says:

If any one thinks he can see the World's Fair for fifty cents, he will find that he has made a serious mistake. Some one will presently obtain a concession to all the air at Jackson Park and sell it to visitors at so much per breath. This petty extortion is not only vexatious, but is outrageous. The water privilege, the toll for the privilege, the privilege to usurp the benches in the park and charge money for sitting on them—all these and a hundred others have been granted. In many cases it cannot be learned that the Fair Directors have received anything for the grants. In others the amount to be paid is so small in comparison with the lowest estimate of the profits that it would be better for the reputations of the grantors if the franchise had been a free gift.

WILL DO TO BET ON.
Murat Halstead, in a New York special to The O. C., says of the new Administration: "The man who bets on the United States will win every time. Nothing—not even the Democratic party—can destroy the prosperous growth of this country. It is clear now that the peril of a panic associated with the change in the National Administration has passed away."

A very distinguished Democrat last summer, at Coney Island, accounting for the apathy that could not be disturbed, said: "The great corporate interests, capital, what they call Wall Street in the wild and woolly West, took charge of both National Conventions, nominated Harrison at Minneapolis and Cleveland at Chicago. They are generally satisfied that neither Harrison nor Cleveland will set the world on fire or permit incendiarism. There is some excitement over the tariff on account of the gray amendment of the platform at Chicago, but Cleveland will go slow if he feels in. The Omaha people were fools—wild asses of the desert. The old parties do not differ so much as they did, and the new ones will not sense enough to get their hair cut."

NEW YORK, March 20, 1893.
Princess Kalaula arrived from Washington this afternoon. What at Mayville, Ky., she examined the Om. Cream and the Frank Owens Hardware Co. and pronounced it the best she had ever seen and will order a lot of them to present to her subjects. She sails on Wednesday.

UNCLE SAM'S PENSION HOLDERS.

The most unscrupulous birds That prey upon the Nation Are the Congressmen who advocate The pension legislation.

To have a pension They work for pension grants. For the voters and their make-believes And their cousins and their aunts.

The pension lists are full of names Of pensioners of all colors. To know the snarl of gunpowder Battle one must know To get the hand on public funds Each burning patriot feels And so do all his sisters.

No matter if he lost his eye While tinkering with a mule, Or expatiating over all Or jabbering at school, He interviews his Congressman, And that wise man descends On the justice due his suit, And his cousin and his aunts.

All honor to the brave and bold Who fought the great, good fight, And let the Nation know As a teacher mother might; But let these sharks and make-believes, These public corruptors, Bait a living for their elders And their cousins and their aunts.

DR. JOSEPH WALTON FULTON, born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1840, died in Elliott county. He was a resident of Portsmouth from 1890 to 1892, and began his practice during the cholera epidemic of 1883 in Philadelphia.

WILLIAM HOWARD of Aberdeen and Rose Conard of Cincinnati were married in the latter city. Howard is watchman on the steamer Big Sandy. Neither of the parties are of age, says The Ripley Bee, but it was a case of had to.

SOMEBODY of somewhere attempted to send a large towel through the mail to some body else somewhere else. They were careful to pay six cents postage on the package, but as they failed to put the least sign of address or even their own name on it, it remains in the Postoffice. Will people ever learn that Postmaster can't guess everything?

JOHN W. SANDERS, alias "Paregoric," colored, and Katie Silversmith, a handsome white woman, eloped from Chattanooga to Ironton and married. They were both employed as waiters in the dining-room of the Alger Hotel. "Paregoric" is the same fellow who, on promise of marrying her, ruined Beatie Allison, a colored domestic, who committed suicide a few weeks ago by taking rough on rails.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1893.

SMOKE NANCY HANKS CIGAR, queen of the turf.
G. W. CULLEN.

A STROCK case was made out against the inebriate Hardin county preacher, Whynan, at his trial last week. His daughter, though weak from her recent confinement, was unshaken in her evidence, which positively proves the guilt of her unnatural father.

REPORTS from various places along the line of the C. and O. indicate that there is a gang of railroad thieves at work along that road. Drygoods and clothing merchants are the most frequent victims. Boxes are broken open in an expert manner at the depot instead of the top, and the robbery cannot be detected until the goods are opened by their owners. Local merchants have suffered to some extent.

THE ALIVE forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 6 o'clock to-morrow evening.

WE will make a present of a set of these spoons to every person who will send us the names of three NEW yearly subscribers, accompanied by $9.

THE popular of the subject places this spoon foremost among the spoons of this anniversary year. It is a fitting tribute and memorial to the memory of the bold navigator, America's discoverer, the name of him whom all men honor for his gifts to the world of the American continent. The likeness of Columbus is taken from the famous painting that was accepted as an authentic portrait by the Spanish government. The Spoon is a beautiful specimen of the designer's and engraver's art, unexcelled in style and finish by the most costly silverware, and every one of our readers should have one or more for their personal use and for gifts to friends. It is a work of art and every lover of handsome silverware and collector of spoons should possess one. It makes a particularly elegant gift, birthday present or souvenir of a visit.

A more beautiful spoon is very rarely seen, to say nothing of its added value as a souvenir of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. It is one of the finest premiums which we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and we shall be pleased to send it largely chosen, knowing that all who receive it will be delighted. The quality is guaranteed. It is heavily plated with pure sterling silver and will wear well for years and give perfect satisfaction.

It is sent all charges paid, securely packed in a neat box.

A USEFUL PUBLICATION.
The Official Souvenir of the World's Columbian Exposition.

When the United States Government took control of the World's Columbian Exposition last October, on the occasion of the dedication, a Board of Control was appointed to carry on the work to a successful completion. One of the first acts of the Board was to order a publication which should give the information that people are most desirous of obtaining in connection with the Exposition. Now appropriate new apparatus has been ordered into the public mind. The work was given the title of the Official Directory of the World's Columbian Exposition, and active preparations were at once entered into. It has now so far progressed as to warrant placing it into the hands of solicitors for the purpose of taking subscriptions. It will contain not only very valuable, but also very interesting information. Will be illustrated without one hundred full page half-tone engravings, and will contain the names of every exhibitor, his home address, what he is exhibiting and where the exhibit may be found at the Exposition. It is information which intending visitors must urgently need, and will be highly appreciated by the public everywhere. W. B. Conkey Company of Chicago, who are the official publishers, desire a representative in this locality, and will mail handsome descriptive circular on application.
